POSSIBILITY OF ATTACK ON ENGLAND.

LONDON, Feb. 15.
The Times Military Correspondent states that Germany is undoubtedly massing troops on the Western front, where there are now 166 Divisions, as compared with 128 in November. He suggests the possibility of an attack on England, in conjunction with a great naval offensive, and quotes a well known passage from a General Staff text-book that the advantage of gaining partial sea control temporarily in order to land troops might justify the loss of the German Fleet.
The correspondent emphasises that the General Staff controls the Fleet, and the temptation to use it in a great land and sea offensive against England must be considerable.
Therefore, he urges the maintenance of a strong home defence force
"despite temptations and jibes."

GREAT GERMAN ACTIVITY IN BELGIUM.

LONDON, Feb. 16.
The Belgian newspaper Le Matin learns that the Germans are unpre-cedentedly active. The Military have monopolised the railways since the beginning of February. Troops from Rumania and Serbia, and perhaps from Russia, have recently arrived, including many cavalry. Also apparently fresh units from the depot in Germany composed of youths of good physique and morale, who are well equipped, but the subalterns are strikingly young and inexperienced.

ATTACK BY THE CROWN PRINCE.

A THRUST IN CHAMPAGNE.
LONDON, Feb. 16.
A German official message received by wireless says:—
The Crown Prince attacked in Champagne, to the south of Reims, and was completely successful.
We stormed four lines on a front of 2,600 metres to a depth of 800 metres, taking prisoner 858.

THE FRENCH REPORT.

A French communiqué states:—
The enemy bombarded our Butte-de-Mesnil—Maison-de-Champagne front most intensely and succeeded, with the aid of the explosion of several mines, in penetrating a salient west of Maison-de-Champagne and north of the road to Butte-de-Mesnil. Our barrage and flanking fire from the district north of Main-de-Massiges, caused the enemy heavy losses.
A violent artillery struggle is proceeding in this region.
There is great patrol activity in Woivre.
Five enemy aeroplanes were brought down.
Our air squadrons bombed railway stations, blast furnaces, an aerodrome, barracks, bivouacs, and a military park.

THE BRITISH FRONT.

Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports:—
We made a successful raid southeast of Bouches.
An enemy party reached our lines north-east of Armentieres but was immediately driven out with losses.
In the air fighting on Thursday eight enemy machines were driven down and anti-aircraft guns brought down another.
Four of ours are missing.

THE WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN.

AN OVERWHELMING TRIUMPH.
LONDON, Feb. 16.
Messrs Ralli Bros, and clients have taken £1,500,000 of the War Loan, the Indian and General Investment Trust
£65,000 and the Bengal-Doonars railway £30,000.
The War Loan campaign is closing most enthusiastically. Already it is evident that the Loan will be a great success and that the highest hopes will be fulfilled. Large and small subscriptions still pouring in from all quarters make the triumph overwhelming.
A most imposing demonstration was held in Trafalgar Square at midday. There were huge crowds. The Lord Mayor and other representatives from all parts of London went in procession from the Mansion House Square where the Lord Mayor and others made patriotic speeches. A prayer was offered and then the Guards Band and a picked Choir led the singing of "O God our help in ages past," most impressively, concluding with the National Anthem.
There were extraordinary scenes on the last day for receiving subscriptions to the War Loan. The City was invaded by thousands of subscribers and the Banks and Post Offices were besieged. Long queues were marshalled by the police and commissionaires.
Similar scenes are reported from the big provincial towns especially Glasgow.

BRITAIN'S STOCK OF GOLD.

PARIS, Feb. 16.
The well-known economist, M Edmond Thery, states that the British Government's stocks of gold had increased by £25,640,000 on December 21, as compared with July 1914.

GERMANY'S WAR EXPENDITURE.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16.
German war expenditure hitherto has amounted to three thousand millions sterling (£3,000,000,000).

THE KAISER'S VISIT TO VIENNA.

THE REASON.
BERN, Feb. 16.
The Kaiser's visit to Vienna was largely due to apprehensions regarding the Austro-Hungarian attitude towards Germany arising out of the recent Ministerial, official and Court changes. Several of the new officeholders are wealthy and it is considered that they are indifferent to Viennese financial interests which are dominated from Berlin. Count Tisza, a strong pro-Kaiserite, is the only old Minister who remained, so as not to risk Germany's great displeasure.

GREAT BRITAIN AND CHINA.

LONDON, Feb. 15.
Reuter states that there is great satisfaction in British authoritative quarters at China's decision to break with Germany. The Allied Ministers in Peking are in very close touch with the Chinese Government regarding the measures which will result therefrom.

CRIMES OF THE GERMAN
PIRATES.DAMNING INDICTMENT OF THE
NEW CIVILISATION.TRAGIC PLIGHT OF SAILORS IN OPEN BOATS.

By ALFRED NOYES.

"The last we saw of the captain's boat was..."

"They drifted away. We never saw them again."

This is the burden of a hundred tales, true tales, that are so plain and simple that I believe very few people realize their meaning. It seems inconceivable otherwise that a civilised world should allow the sickening work to continue, as it does, day after day and night after night, in this bleak winter, a work of murder against unarmed men on the high seas.

Open boats! What a mockery is that safeguard in the face of the Lusitania outrage. But the mockery does not stir the world. Our civilisation has neither eyes to see nor ears to hear, unless the case be a very large and sensational one.

How many people have heard, for instance, of the Tringa? She was a ship of over 2,000 tons, and carried a crew of only 25 men. What are 25 men to civilisation? To German civilisation they are less important than the cries of drowning men must come from at least 1,500 throats in order to be heard at all. Undoubtedly, our civilisation has grown too big for us; and no human cry will halt a wheel of it.

On a certain cold November day, the crew of the Tringa saw the wake of a submarine. A pass under her stern. Immediately afterwards a submarine appeared on her starboard, firing about 400 yards away. She opened fire at once, on the unarmed ship. This is the narrative of one of the crew:

"RELLIES CREW FIRED ON."

"We blew three blasts on the whistle to indicate that we were trying to stop the ship; but she still continued to fire. One shot crashed right through the crew's quarters. We immediately lowered three boats, and got all the crew away from the ship. The U boat circled round to the port side, and still continued to fire at the ship. She passed close to the boats while she was firing, and fragments of the ship fell among them. The last shot caused a heavy explosion. The ship went down shortly afterwards, stern first."

"The weather was very bad," continues one of the survivors. "We were picked up by a steamer at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning."

A Roman poet, once declared that it was pleasant to stand in safety upon the shore and watch others battling for life with the waves. One fears that there have been a Prussian streak in literature; but, the sentiment, in a less extreme form, is common to humanity. Certainly it is pleasant to all men to see an enemy battling with the waves of his own anger, especially when he is the commander of a U boat.

SUBMARINE REAPPEARS.

The Chantale was an unarmed British ship, and she was torpedoed without warning. The crew had all taken to the boats. It was very dark, with a long swell, a light breeze, and what sailors call "low visibility." The boats lay to for nearly an hour, without sighting the submarine, and, as the ship had not yet shown signs of sinking, the master decided to return to her. The U boat, however, was evidently watching them like a lynx; an easy matter with a periscope that is almost invisible at a few hundred yards distance. As soon as the master's boat began to pull towards the ship, there was "a whizzing noise" and a shell passed overhead, striking the water very near them.

The submarine appeared, about a mile away, rushing up at full speed. It was evidently a highly excitable submarine, for the same tearing for the boats, with her commander bawling: "Where's your captain? Come on board, you English dog! You murderer! You bastard!"

The master got his boat alongside, and the German commander swore at him and struck him and kicked him for not sending her off properly. The master was then told to come to the conning tower, which he did. There the submarine captain caught him by the throat, threatening to hang him and using very foul language.

A TALE OF MURDER.

The brutality of the open boat system of dealing with passengers and crews of merchant ships is well illustrated by the case of the Chic.

A submarine suddenly appeared on the starboard side and began shelling the ship, which was unarmed. She stopped at once, and the crew were ordered to abandon her.

An effort was made to lower the port lifeboat; but it was caught by a sea and lifted quite slack in the blocks. On release, when the sea subsided, it dropped heavily. The after gear was carried away. The carpenter, who was in the boat, was hung in the water, well clear of the ship. A lifebuoy was thrown to him, but he was heavily clothed, probably wearing sea boots, and he was drowned.

The boat rapidly filled. Efforts were made to bale her; but she was found to be too badly damaged to be seaworthy.

The submarine, however, was not concerned with these trivial matters of our common humanity. She was concerned with great things like the impersonal movement of the stars, the destiny of Germany and the God who is undoubtedly "mit uns."

Could anything illustrate more completely the chaotic brutality of the present defiance of international law at sea? It is simply a tale of murder, foul and unnatural; a most damning indictment of the new German civilisation.

The allies are fighting the criminal. I do not see how neutrals can fail at least to pass their moral judgment upon him. If they do not do so openly there are only two explanations. The first is that they do so secretly, but the German "frightfulness" has muzzled them.

The second is that a great part of the human race has terribly deceived itself about its own character. No contempt can be too complete for the perpetrators of this outrage against every chivalrous instinct that has ever found lodging in the unhappy heart of man.

A HERO UNDER TWO FLAGS.

FOUGHT FOR AND AGAINST THE TURKS.

One of the most romantic stories of the war centres round Herbert Gerald Montagu, a private in the Oxford and Bucks Light Infantry, formerly a lieutenant in the Royal Munster Fusiliers, who has died in action.

Mr. Montagu, who was formerly a subaltern in the Royal Fusiliers, was deprived of his commission for joining the Turkish army in Tripoli without leave.

He fought in the Taro-Italian War in 1911, and was decorated by the Sultan with the Orders of the Mejidieh and Nishan-i-Itikhar for conspicuous bravery in the field. At the conclusion of the Tripoli campaign he returned to England, and was presented with an illuminated address on behalf of the Moslem community in this country.

As lieutenant in the Royal Munster Fusiliers he took part in the Suvla Bay landing and in other Gallipoli operations, and was wounded at Kishlag Dag, and returned to England in September 1915 suffering from septic wounds and nervous breakdown.

Owing to his illness he resigned his commission, but immediately he was fit he joined the Oxford and Bucks Light Infantry as a private, went to France, and there met his death at the age of 24.

"No German appointments to the Indoor Staff," said the statement, "have been made since the beginning of the war, and although a few have been accepted for the outdoor staff, there is a net decrease of 56 in that department." Moreover it was officially declared that there was no foundation for the statement that Germans are being substituted for Britons who have gone to the war. A "British Consul in China" undertook to repudiate in the Times the statement that "at the outbreak of war 30 British Consuls in China were Germans." This is the first time we have heard of this amazing statement, and from our own knowledge of the Consular Service in China we have no hesitation in characterising it as utterly untrue. The Consul who contradicts the statement declares that "not one member of the British Consular Service in China was then or is now of German nationality." Mr. Wile has given to the world much illuminating information about the German as he knew him in Germany, but, after the prompt contradiction which his statements about Germans in China received, he will doubtless take care to verify any further information that may reach him from the same source by applying to quarters more authoritative if less "distinguished."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mr. Bowen Rowlands has left the Colony to join the army.
A Japanese paper states that the coming tourist season is expected to be a record one for Japan.

An order by the Governor-in-Council wholly adopts the existing valuation of the tenements in the Colony for the year 1917-1918.

The sum of two hundred dollars, part proceeds of the concert held on 14th last at the Helena May Institute, has been sent to the Fund for Blind Soldiers and Sailors.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased, under instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies to recognise Mr. Leighton Hope as Vice-Consul of the United States of America at Hongkong.

Notice is given in the Gazette that another enemy trade mark has expired and will be removed from the Register unless the prescribed fee for the renewal of registration is paid before March 13th.

A notice in today's Gazette relates to a proposed lease for 99 years of certain Crown land at Hung Hom comprising portions of the foreshore and sea-bed having a total area of 308,825 square feet.

The Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial and Affiliated Hospitals begs to acknowledge with thanks the following donation to the funds of the Hospitals:—
Nestle and Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Co. $100

Among those who had booked passages for Hongkong when the last mail left were Mr. and Mrs. Langley, Mr. C. Brown, Rev. and Mrs. Hendricks, Mr. Bonnar, Dr. and Mrs. Harston, Mr. G. E. Stewart, Mrs. Arnott and Mr. Wyatt.

It is notified in the Government Gazette that Mr. C. F. Bowen-Rowlands, Secretary to the Sanitary Board, has by direction of the Secretary of State for the Colonies been dismissed from the Government Service, with effect from the 14th February, 1917.

A gloom was cast over the French and Allied communities of Shanghai last Sunday by the death of Mons. J. Dantin, Secretary of the French Municipal Council; flags over Municipal and other buildings were half-masted. Mons. Dantin came to his death by an accident in most distressing circumstances in the bathroom of his apartment in the French municipal building. The bathroom was tightly sealed with felt to keep out the north wind and, it is supposed, the room had become filled with fumes from the heating apparatus and Mons. Dantin was suffocated.

COMPANY MEETING.

THE HONGKONG HOTEL CO., LTD.

The ordinary half yearly meeting of shareholders of The Hongkong Hotel Co., Ltd., was held at noon today at the Company's Hotel.

There were present: Mr. J. Scott Harston (Chairman), Messrs. E. Maidland, Ellis Kadisberg, A. O. Lang (directors); W. Logan, M. Maunick, S. D. Somekh, A. E. Crapnell, J. M. Alves, J. Patterson, J. Walker, Shi Po Sam and Fung Tat Hang, shareholders; and J. Taggart, Acting Secretary.

The CHAIRMAN said: Gentlemen—The Reports and Accounts having been in your hands for several days I will, with your permission, and in accordance with the usual practice, take time as read. The profits on the Company's working account for the half-year under review amounted to the sum of $269,310.07, as compared with a sum of $56,423.44 for the corresponding period of 1915—thus showing an increase of $212,886.63. The Profit and Loss Account (including the sum of $54,777.05 brought forward from the previous half-year) amounted to the sum of $123,493.32, in regard to which your Board recommend a distribution as follows:—

To pay a final dividend of $4 per share on 20,000 shares $80,000.00
To transfer to Repairs & Renewals Account 20,000.00
To write off Steam Launch 1,000.00
and to carry forward to new account 42,493.32

and I trust that this suggested apportionment will meet with your approval—more especially in view of the fact that, as you will observe, the shareholders will be in receipt of a dividend of $6 per share in respect of the year 1916, as against $5 for the preceding year. Having regard to the fact that the price of all commodities, and of food in particular, have been steadily rising, I think you will agree—that the profit shown for the past half year is extremely satisfactory, and particularly so, having regard to the fact that the transient business—which to the Hotel is naturally the most remunerative—though slightly in excess of 1915, has not by any means assumed the proportions of pre-war days. In order to keep the establishment up to date, we have deemed it advisable, notwithstanding the effects of the war, to continue our previous policy regarding improvements; and the Company's properties—the maintenance of which in good condition always entails a large expenditure—have been well looked after.

In addressing you in February last, Dr. Noble (the then Chairman of the Company) foreshadowed the making of certain alterations to the First Floor of the Hotel. These alterations have now been completed, and I believe that the accommodation obtainable therefrom compares most favourably with that to be found in modern hotels in Europe. The work in respect of the new Cold Storage and Butchery is almost finished, and, coupled with the re-organisation of certain portions of the General Service, and with certain re-furnishing which we contemplate carrying out during the current year, will, on actual completion, tend to vastly improve the establishment. I do not propose to make any prophecies as to the future, but would draw your attention to the fact that, in order to be prepared for any contingencies that may arise, your Board have adopted the policy—which I think you will agree is a sound one—of carrying forward the sum of $42,493.32 as against a small sum carried forward for the similar period preceding the outbreak of war. I cannot close these remarks without stating that I desire on behalf of the Board to cordially thank the Manager and other members of the Company's Staff who have contributed to what I think may in the circumstances be considered a very satisfactory result for the Company's shareholders. If any shareholder has any question to ask, I shall be pleased to endeavour to answer same to the best of my ability.

On the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. J. Patterson, the report of the Board of Directors and the statement of accounts were adopted.

On the proposal of Mr. S. D. Somekh, seconded by Mr. W. Logan, Mr. Ellis Kadoorie was re-elected to the directorate; and on the proposal of Mr. A. E. Crapnell, seconded by Mr. M. Maunick, Messrs. A. R. Lowe, F. C. A. and E. Perry Smith, F. C. A., were re-elected auditors at a remuneration of $200 each.

TRAINING TIMES.

A heavy fog in the early morning completely covered the course, and it was some time before it cleared sufficiently to enable "clockers" to see both pony and post together. Consequently some of the times taken are incomplete with quarters missed. The extra mile has been removed from the grass course so, for the first time this season, the ponies could be timed accurately. The going was good, though not fast, the fog or heavy dew having made the grass a bit holding. There was a large attendance, including H.E. the Governor. Messrs. Boyd and Hera arrived yesterday and were both seen in the saddle this morning. We regret to learn that Mr. R. F. Auld will be unable to come down as his wife is laid up with pneumonia.

Understand Mr. C. R. Burdell will take "his place" and ride for Sir Paul Chatter. Three ponies were culled yesterday, Sonia, Victory Dahlia and Northland, the last named half a mile only, in 1.04.4, last quarter 30.4. Two reliable watches got "Silver Streak's" last quarter as 20.4; one gave the full time as 3.33, and the other as 3.38.3. Some comments on today's form will appear in our Monday's issue. The following are the times taken this morning:—

THE MAGISTRACY.

BEGGING RICE.

"Only asked for some rice," was the excuse given by a very old Chinese who was charged with begging in On Lan Street.
When asked by Mr. Melbourne if he had any relatives or friends in Court the old man slowly looked about the Court room and finally said, "I don't know, my sight is very bad."
His Worship informed the defendant that begging was against the law and bound him over on a personal bond of $10.

RESISTING A CONSTABLE.

A Chinese charged with resisting a constable was brought before Mr. Melbourne this morning.
The lukong entered the witness box and deposed that he saw the defendant fighting with another man whom he was beating with a bamboo pole. When the constable attempted to separate the combatants the defendant violently resisted, him and bit his thumb. The constable then drew his truncheon but the defendant grabbed it from him, struck the constable in the abdomen with it, and tore his tunic in an effort to prevent him from sounding his whistle. With the assistance of another lukong the defendant was finally arrested and taken to the Police Station.
The defendant offered the excuse that he did not want to go to the Police Station and being a new comer in the Colony he did not know that it was wrong to resist a constable.
A fine of $10 and $5 recompense was imposed, or in default of payment 14 days' imprisonment.

ANCHOR CASE AGAIN HEARD.

The remanded case in which a former Chief Officer of the s.s. Hue is charged with stealing two of the ship's anchors was again before Mr. J. R. Wood this morning, when evidence was given by Mr. E. R. Dovey as an expert on hand writing, concerning various documents in the case.
Two Chinese witnesses for the prosecution were cross-examined by Mr. Jenkin, and the case was adjourned till next Wednesday.

Under this heading the Times of Ceylon of January 17th says:—There is a very familiar ring about Sir Francis May's denunciation, published elsewhere, of those wicked people who are asking that more men should be sent home from Hongkong. We wonder whether a really strict enquiry by a competent authority would result in a confirmation of the statement that all the men who could be spared had gone. It is so easy to arrive at general conclusions of this kind. For instance, quite two years ago the Ceylon proprietors in London were making vigorous representations at Downing Street to the effect that catfish had already been dangerously denuded of European supervision. Yet a matter of 5,000 Europeans, mostly planters, have since left, and Europeans are still going. Sir John Simon and his friends a year ago were strenuously contending in the House of Commons that all the men had joined who could be spared without ruining the country financially and hopelessly impairing its capacity for meeting the demands of the war. Yet about two million men have since been called up and the country was never so strong financially. We rather imagine that Sir Francis May would never have refused his scores of applications if he possessed a truer appreciation of the war situation. A decision such as his is so easy and so safe.

BEWARE OF COLDS.

CHILDREN are much more likely to contract the contagious diseases when they have colds. Whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and consumption are diseases that are often contracted when the child has a cold. That is why all medical authorities advise parents of colds to be kept away from children. For the quick cure of colds you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

TICKLING IN THE THROAT.

EVEN the slightest tickling or hoarseness in the throat may be the forerunner of a dangerous illness. Stop that once with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

BEHIND THE FRENCH FRONT.

A shrill whistle on a rapidly descending scale, and a German 8-inch shell burst with a loud detonation in a field on our left about 150 yards from the road. Half-way across this intervening space an old man drawing an awkward furrow with a one-horse plough pursued the even tenor of his task. The whistle, and the detonation are presently repeated, and we look back to see the ploughman returning on the forward furrow calmly following an equally calm and patient horse, while a cloud of dust is rising from the ground on which he has just turned his plough. In another part of the same field a number of women and children of all ages are seen busily engaged in harvesting operations, and the work goes on without perceptible interruption. It is considered inadvisable to expose troops in this neighbourhood by day except in very small bodies, but the task of husbandry proceeds as usual.
A little nearer to the front is a country village or what the invasion has left of it after intermittent bombardment—nothing over nearly two years. A Calvary by the entrance remains untouched, but the church with its spire, as a possible observation post is a heap of ruins. A tall factory chimney has several shot-holes through it, and the factory itself is closed for repairs. Here and there a house has been squarely hit by a heavy shell and destroyed instantly and utterly; many tenements have lost the whole or part of their roofs, and the rafters are silhouetted against a pitiful sky. Few buildings are to be seen which have not had at least one shell through them, and almost all the windows are merely empty frames or are disguised in boarding or sackings.
The place is well within range of even the enemy field guns and scarcely a day passes without its "ration of hate" adding to the devastation and the death-roll. All through the day and night, near at hand or further off, rising and falling but never ceasing, the thunderous roar of a far flung battle fills the air; and time and again, the crash of an enemy shell, shakes the whole neighbourhood or the replying salvo of a friendly battery close by smites the ear with a deafening and nerve-racking shock.
Death and destruction, swift and sudden, threaten every living thing alike in sleeping and in waking hours, and reflection on the risks of remaining here might well shake the resolution of the boldest. But loss of home and devotion to country and duty, enable the brave French, mainly women and children, to face the dreadful ordeal and even to bear it lightly. Through it all, except for the absence of the able-bodied men of military age and the evidence of war and military occupations little change is discernible in the village life. Shops are open at the usual hours, a stream of people passes to and fro, women exchange greetings and compare experiences in the dooryards, and merry children gambol in the streets, as in happier times.
On occasion one may see the representatives of young France, adorned with paper helmets and equipped with wooden swords or guns engaged earnestly in mimic warfare in trenches and dug-outs of their own construction in the back gardens, what time real shells are whistling overhead or bursting in the vicinity.
Such is the scene which meets the eye in any village within the fire zone; such is the spirit which is breathed everywhere. Degrees of danger and devastation, of hardship and suffering, vary, but the characteristics of the civil population remain the same—loyalty, calmness, courage, patience, industry, steadfastness, confidence.
Now and again military considerations render necessary the evacuation of the native population of such a village. This is arranged and carried out by the civil authority but is always a painful business, for it is left to themselves—and they desire nothing more—these splendid people would cling to the ruins of their homes till the last. Bereavements and material losses have saddened them but they are not cowed. Fathers, sons, husbands, brothers are bearing their part with sublime courage and gratifying success in the battle-line, and those they have left behind at home speak of them with obvious and justifiable pride, discharge the greatly increased duties which devolve upon themselves with patient labour and grim determination, and await the issue of the momentous struggle with calm and complete confidence. To go in and out among these people is a fine experience and a liberal education; and the conclusion is irresistible that the French nation, endowed with qualities of this high order is to-day invincible.
Gallant France you are deservedly winning through in a long, fierce and bloody war, deliberately forced upon you by a powerful ambitious and implacable foe; and your devoted and indomitable civil population by their high courage and patriotic self-sacrifice, together with your magnificent infantry and your incomparable artillery by their conspicuous valour and endurance are writing for you in letters of gold on the page of history a record of imperishable glory.

GERMANY'S HOPES.

"AN EARLY AND SLASHING TRIUMPH."

LONDON, Feb. 16. American correspondents from Germany confirm the opinions of English and French experts that General von Hindenburg must strike soon. They say that the people have recently almost forgotten their sufferings in the full hope of an early and slashing triumph which will end the war.

THE KAISER AND HIS BLOCKADE.

A FOETIC FANCY.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16. Conversing with the poet Mueller at Telford, the Kaiser declared that Napoleon's phantom of a Continental blockade had become a reality hitting England harder than anything hitherto. Right and morality were on the German side, for the triumph of which every man would be used.

[Not to mention the dirty ones—Ed.]

SHIPPING LOSSES.

LONDON, Feb. 16. The following steamers have been sunk: E. D. Lamport, and Amsterdam. The Amsterdam (British), and two Grimsby trawlers. The total, including the Turkey M. Lane, is about 9,000 tons.

FRANCE AND THE "BLOCKADE."

PARIS, Feb. 16. The "blockade" has hitherto had little effect on France. Ships are arriving regularly at all ports. There were no fewer than 121 arrivals on the 12th inst.

DUTCH SHIPPING COMMUNICATIONS WITH EAST INDIES.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16. The Havelland states that the question is now being considered of sending cargo steamers to the Dutch East India via the Panama Canal. As regards passengers it is proposed that they shall travel via New York overland to San Francisco, whence Dutch steamers will convey them to their destinations.

TERRIBLE SUFFERINGS OF A TRAWLER'S CREW.

LONDON, Feb. 16. Nine of the crew of the torpedoed trawler Ashwood relate stories of terrible sufferings. They were seventy hours in a boat with three tins of corned beef and some bilge water. Most of them were frost-bitten when rescued. The Germans took the skipper prisoner.

ARGENTINA AND THE BLOCKADE.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 16. The Foreign Minister has stated that Argentina could not agree to the German blockade, and that she reserves freedom of action.

FOOD MEASURE IN SWEDEN.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 16. The Government has taken over all oats, barley and the products thereof, and has prohibited the use of potatoes as fodder.

THE SUBMARINE DEBATE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

GERMAN COMMENT.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16. Count Reventlow, the well-known German writer of Naval subjects, commenting on the debate in the House of Lords, claims that previous submarine warfare was overcome not by British measures but by the threatening of diplomatic intervention by America. He makes a feeble retort to Admiral Jellicoe's statement mentioned in the debate.

THE HEALTH OF THE BRITISH ARMY.

BETTER THAN PEACE HEALTH.

LONDON, Feb. 16. Sir Alfred Keogh, in the course of a lecture in London, stated that there were only five men suffering from enteric and 18 from paratyphoid in France at the present time, thanks to inoculation. The health of the Army on all fronts was better than the peace health.

THE HISTORY OF IMPERIAL CO-OPERATION.

LONDON, Feb. 16. The Colonial Institute has decided to arrange for the publication of a history of the imperial co-operation in the war. The Editor will be Sir Charles Lucas.

AMERICA AND GERMANY.

"A GRAVE SITUATION MAY ARISE."

ROME, Feb. 16. The Captain of the torpedoed American steamer Lyman M. Low, in an affidavit, states that the only cargo carried was wood laths for lemon boxes. The question arises whether this cargo can be classed as contraband, in view of the fact that it is useless for military purposes. If it is decided not to be contraband, a very grave situation may ensue.

GERMAN MACHINATIONS IN AMERICA.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. There is every indication that arrangements have been perfected for the continuance of German machinations in the absence of Count Bernstorff. It is suggested that President Wilson will stiffen the embargo on shipments of arms to Mexico, where the Germans are very active.

AMERICA AND BELGIAN RELIEF.

LONDON, Feb. 16. In connection with the German announcement permitting Americans to continue their relief work in Belgium and Northern France, Reuters learns that America consented on the understanding that the same conditions apply as heretofore.

RUSSIAN FRONT.

ENEMY ATTACKS REPULSED.

A Russian official report states: We repulsed attacks southeast of Zolozh. A German official report states: there is lively fighting between the White Sea and the Dnieper.

GENERAL SMUTS AT CAPE TOWN.

TRIBUTE TO INDIAN TROOPS.

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 16. General Smuts had a magnificent reception at the City Hall. Lord Buxton (Governor-General) General Botha, and members of his Cabinet were present. The City and the British Indian community presented addresses, the Indian address affirming that General Smuts commanded no more heroic and hard-working troops than the Indians. General Smuts, replying, emphasised that South Africa had secured a voice in the disposal of the African Continent. No arrangement would be made in the immediate neighbourhood which would prejudice the development of South Africa. He paid an eloquent tribute to the work of the Indians in East Africa, especially in the earlier portion of the campaign, declaring that he had no more loyal, more devoted or heavier troops than the heroes from Asia.

NEW HONOURS.

LONDON, Feb. 16. The King has invested Sir Alfred Keogh with the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, and Sir Francis Younghusband with a knight Commander of the Star of India.

THE PRICE OF SILVER.

LONDON, Feb. 16. Silver is steady and quiet. Messrs. Montagu & Co.'s report attributes the rise in price despite the relatively small demand, firstly to the delay in the receipt of shipments from America, preventing the sale of that portion of silver which awaits realisation upon arrival, and secondly the announcement of a fall of over eighty lakhs on the 7th inst. in the Indian Treasury's holding of silver rupees billion.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

RAIDING EPIDEMIC ON BRITISH FRONT.

CANADIANS GOOD WORK.

LONDON, Feb. 16. Reuters correspondent at Headquarters, writing on the 14th inst., states that raiding is becoming epidemic. There were three successful shows during the past thirty hours, excluding minor affairs, which are now not considered worth mentioning. The Canadians, who initiated regular raiding, went out at four yesterday morning and stirred up the 11th Bavarians between Givenchy and Souchez on a front of 600 yards, and advanced 700 yards. They remained away an hour, wrecking the German lines, including a fortified quarry. They also blew up four mine shafts, burying the miners, and brought back prisoners, though there was a double barrage. There was a second raid five hours later by 45 Canadians, who killed 16 Germans. They also bombed ten dug-outs at a cost of three light casualties. The raid at Bechemont, was made in brilliant sunshine at eleven in the morning, 44 Saxons being brought back.

GERMAN CLAIMS.

"MOST HATED AND MOST OBSTINATE ENEMY."

LONDON, Feb. 15. A German official wireless message says: There have been numerous reconnoitring engagements, inflicting considerable enemy loss at Arras, Amiens and Arras.

GERMANY AND RELIEF WORK.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 16. The German Legation states that the American delegates have been allowed to continue relief work in Belgium and the north of France.

RUSSIAN "PIREBRANDS."

ATTACKS ON TRAWLERS.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 15. The Central Industrial Committee, in the course of a statement regarding the champions who were recently arrested, for fomenting labour troubles, says that the Group consists of the more moderate and non-political Labourmen who have vainly asked the settlement of conflicts and strikes, and any recent action of the Group is due to the general political situation, which was reflected in the pronouncements of the Duma, the Council of Empire, the Congress and by the Nobles.

INDIAN PUBLIC SERVICES.

WITH THE RUSSAINS.

LONDON, Feb. 16. In the House of Commons in reply to Sir John Ross, Mr. Chamberlain stated that the Raj had been asked to consider and report upon the recommendations of the Public Services Commission as soon as possible. Sir John Ross suggested that the consideration of this matter should be deferred until after the war.

MACHINE-GUNS FROM INDIA.

LONDON, Feb. 16. H.M. the King made an inspection of nine machine-guns presented by the Chiefs and people of Rajputana and Ajmer. His Majesty was most interested in the inspection.

THE ADEN FIELD FORCE.

THE "YARROWDALE" AMERICANS.

LONDON, Feb. 16. In the House of Commons, Mr. Chamberlain, in reply to Colonel Yate, said that the Raj informed him in December that it intended to place the Aden Field Force on a similar footing to the other expeditionary forces. He was inquiring when the order would be actually issued, and what decision had been arrived at regarding field allowances.

NEW AND VIGOROUS DEMAND TO BE MADE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. A new and vigorous demand to release the Americans who were taken off the Yarrowdale will be forwarded to Germany shortly, with a full statement regarding the treatment accorded to German ships in the United States.

FOOD TROUBLES IN HOLLAND.

DEMONSTRATIONS DISPERSED BY POLICE AND CAVALRY.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 16. A revolutionary socialist demonstration was dispersed by the police, who refused to allow a deputation to protest against the dearth of food. The ap-proaches to the Ministry of the Interior and all the streets to the inner town were closed. The cavalry had numerous collisions, and several people were wounded.

DUTCH WAR CREDIT.

CHANGE IN AUSTRIAN COMMAND.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 16. A new Dutch war credit of 210,000,000 sterling has been passed.

HEAVY GERMAN LOSSES ON BALKAN FRONT.

DON'T RISK PNEUMONIA.

VIENNA, Feb. 16. The Emperor has relieved the Archduke Frederick of his post of Second in Command.

DON'T COUGH.

IT is absurd to allow a cough to hang on and sap your vitality when you can get it cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. You don't know when a persistent cough will land you. You can't afford to allow your throat and lungs to become diseased when it is such a simple thing to step into a chemist's shop and get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

THE KAISER AND BRITAIN'S BLOCKADE.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16. A Berlin official message states that the Kaiser has issued the following order to the Navy: "The impending decisive battle, the task falls upon my Navy of turning the English war methods of starvation, with which our most hated and most obstinate enemy intends to overthrow the German people, against him and his Allies, by combating their sea traffic with all the means in our power. In this the submarine will stand in the first rank, and I am confident that the enemy's war designs will be broken."

ATTACKS ON TRAWLERS.

LONDON, Feb. 16. A trawler from Burnley was attacked without warning, and blown up with bombs after the pirates had pillaged the boat. The Captain and an engineer were taken prisoners, and the others on board were landed in boats. The crew of another trawler were ninety hours in boats, two of the men being frost bitten.

WARNING TO CUBA.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. Mr. Lansing has warned the Cubans that the United States cannot recognise any Government resulting from the revolution.

WORK OF THE BRITISH ARMOURD CARS.

Further particulars are given in the latest home papers of the recent engagements of the British Naval Armoured Car Squadron against the German Turco-Bulgarian armies in the Dardanelles. The few details available show that under heavy fire and at great risk two squadrons forced a passage through the hostile lines, whereby a large force of the enemy was cut off.

WILY TURKS OUTWITTED.

Just when this morning became apparent news of a contemplated Turkish attack reached the squadrons. They could not advance or retire, and they only saved themselves by collecting all the petrol left and putting it in their best automobile, which was sent forward deliberately as though to reconnoitre. The ground was so open, and the Turkish deceptions were so clever, that the decision was kept up for two days until the petrol arrived, and it completely deluded the Turks.

When the petrol arrived the armoured automobiles undertook an attack upon the village of Nardien. The Turks had been allowed to infer that the squadrons were going away and their surprise was complete.

The distance separating the autos from the Turkish villages was traversed by the squadrons in a matter of minutes, and the village was surrounded. One shot alone from one of the guns of the armoured autos destroyed a Turkish magazine at the base, killing more than 300 Turks.

This engagement was one of many similar skirmishes in this region. The squadrons captured two Cosaks attached to the squadrons and carried them off to the hills.

The day following they came with their knives, rolled up the sleeves of their captured right arms and sharpened their knives upon them. They did the same the day following, upon their left arms. The third day they came to kill the prisoners, only to find that they had escaped and were back again with the squadrons.

SHANGHAI TRADE.

Messrs. Albert & Co.'s Piece Goods Market Report says: The stringency in the money market continues, and prices at the weekly auctions have been somewhat on the easy side. In fact there is little business of any kind to record either in import or export, for the interior water-ways of the country are so abnormally dried up that throughout many of the smaller tributaries of the Yangtze river, cargo boats traffic is suspended, while on the Yangtze itself the traffic is being delayed.

The winter has been one of exceptional dryness, for even though heavy falls of snow have occurred in many parts, the continuous frost has prevented the rivers from benefiting. Now the first day of "Chinese Spring" has arrived, the rivers should be rising inch by inch, instead of which they are still falling, and the natives fear a sudden rush of water later on, with its usual attendant flooded areas.

Exchange has continued its upward career, and rates for cash are considerably above current quotations.

IT is absurd to allow a cough to hang on and sap your vitality when you can get it cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. You don't know when a persistent cough will land you. HARPER'S BALSAMIC COUGH LINCTUS.

The mild and soothing influence which this preparation has classes it among the most valuable of its kind, in cases of Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, Shortness of Breathing, or Difficulty of Expectoration; and while it removes the accumulation of phlegm from its Tonic and Astringent virtues it prevents its formation, and allays irritation of the membranes of the throat and chest, rendering those delicate parts less susceptible of future irritation and disease.

DOSE.—From ten drops to one tea-spoonful according to age and circumstances, to be taken three or four times a day, or when the Cough is troublesome.

PRICE $1.00 AND $1.50 PER BOTTLE.

HONGKONG SHARE MARKET.

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor in their report, dated the 16th inst., state:—

The volume of business transacted since the date of our last circular has been on quite a small scale, and as prices showing generally speaking a tendency to sag away, with the sole exception of Wharf shares, which have suddenly come into prominence, and in which a fair amount of business has been done.

Tight money continues to exercise an adverse influence on the market, both here and in Shanghai, although the situation appears to be more accentuated in Shanghai than here, business in the North being absolutely at a standstill as far as one is able to judge.

The reported decision taken by the Banks in the North to restrict further export of Silver will, no doubt, exercise a good influence gradually as time goes on, but it must be admitted that there is no evidence showing the chance of really easy money in Shanghai for some time to come.

RUBBER is quoted from London 3/3d per lb.

BANKS.—Hongkong Banks are offering at $715 with no business to report.

MARINE INSURANCES.—Union have changed heads at $200, closing with sellers at the rate. Cantons at $374, North China at $150, and Yangtze at $255 are unchanged from last week.

FIRE INSURANCES.—Hongkong Fire have come to business to a small extent at $307 and China Fire at $150 are a neglected market.

SHIPPING.—Douglases at $114 are without feature. Deferred Indes have been dealt in at $127 for the Settlement, probably more shares could be placed at the rate. Preferred Indes at $413 are unchanged from last week. Star Ferries could be placed at $23, and Steamboats at $19 ex dividend.

RETIRES.—China Sugars closed last week at $125, but the market has since fallen away to $118 at which a small business has been done. Malabars have changed hands at $203.

ONLS AND MENDO.—Langkats are quoted $1.30 in the North with no business to report locally. Rauba have been dealt in at $2. Trenches at 25/6, Shells at 100/6, and Urals at 32/9 are unchanged.

DOCKS, WHARVES AND GODOWNS.—Kowloon Wharves have suddenly come into prominence, and a fair amount of business has resulted at $40 for cash, with $32 for March, $33 for April, and $34 for May done. Hongkong Docks could probably be placed at $124 for cash, and Shanghai Docks continue to offer at $1.35.
